GRAVE CHARGES AGAINST MAYOR

South Fulton's Latest Sensation
--Trial May 17th.

State Bank Case to Be Heard June
8th--The The Capitol Commission.

OTHER KENTUCKY NEWS

Fulton, Ky., May 12--Quite a sensation was created in South Fulton when Adrian McDade, former city treasurer, submitted a charge of malfeasance in office against Mayor R. T.
Milner and demanded a trial of the mayor by the council, says the Fulton Leader. The petition charges Mr.
Milner with failure to submit a statement of the financial condition of the city every three months as prescribed by ordinance, also to report monthly through the Recorder the condition of his office, fines assessed and collected and uncollected. He also charges the mayor with causing to be arrested and tried before him, men who committed crimes outside of the city limits, and unwarrented and unlawfully having same imprisoned and depriving them of their rights, property and liberty.

This afternoon all except Mr. Smedley left via the N. C. and St. L. for Nashville, and will probably be absent
a day or two.

It was last night ordered that the street roller be given thorough repairs under the supervision of Mr. Harrison, the man sent here by the factory to operate it. Mr. Harrison found the roller in bad shape from the repeated onslaughts of those who have run it during the past several years, when it was run at all, but it is still capable of good work. It was reported that he would recommend a lighter roller, claiming that the present roller is too heavy for these streets, but City Engineer Washington stated that this was all foolishness and the city needs a heavier roller, if anything. A member of the board of public works said
the same thing, and that further Mr.
Harrison had not recommended a lighter roller.

The weights are taken for the purpose of furnishing a basis by which the department determines the rate of pay due the railroad companies for the contract term of four years, commencing July 1, 1904. The present annual rate of pay for the section is about $5,000,000. The total for railroad transportation of United States mail annually throughout the country is nearly $10,000,000. In 1883 it was a trifle over $12,000,000, and in 1893 slightly in excess of $25,000,000. In 1883 the total mileage of railroad was $110,308. In 1893 it had risen to 166,932. For 1903 it is stated at 192,852, and today about 200,000 miles.

enteen soldiers in an engagement in

He says that General Wood ordered the troops to proceed and recover the

CAMP FIRE IS OUT AND RED MEN LEAVE

The Great Council Was Highly Successful.

Work All Finished Late Yesterday Afternoon—Banquet Last Night.

VISITORS ARE DELIGHTED

The Great Council of Kentucky Red Men ended at 5:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, the business being finished sooner than expected. An effort to change the time of meeting from the second Tuesday in May until the second Tuesday in June was unsuccessful, but the meeting was the most delightful and one of the most profitable, ever held, according to all the delegates.

In the afternoon late the officers were installed, and Great Sachem Denhardt named the appointive officers as follows: H. J. Phillips, of Louisville, great sunup; Lee W. Zwydoff, of Louisville, great mishmaw; J. K. Moore, of Pittsburgh, great guard of wigwam; J. Robin Garr, of Louisville, great guard of forest.

The committees for the ensuing year were named as follows, the number indicating the tribe.

Finance—H. J. Northurst, 37; Henry Schivieten 8, J. H. Kemper 18.

Law and Usage—George Hinrly 8, John Riley 11, Gustave Elleramp 8, J. W. Matthews 67, O. R. King 1.

Returns and Reports—T. J. Tierney 80, J. H. Adams 83, Hugh Johnson 81.

State Order—J. J. Frendlich 60, N. H. Northershed 57, J. N. Clifford 10.

Appeals—C. H. Morris 88, C. P. Harding 5, John Hofenderer 41.

There was no other business of public interest and the Great Council adjourned.

Last night at the Palmer house the big banquet was given the visitors and local Red Men and many toasts were enjoyed. Mr. Lawrence Leopold, of Louisville, was toastmaster, and made a fine one. There was good cheer on all sides, and the Paducah Red Men were as delighted with the visitors as the visitors seemed to be with Paducah. Most of them have returned to their respective homes.

License Inspector Ed Clark is preparing to secure warrants against all owners of wagons who have failed to pay license or to place on their vehicles the tag required by law after paying the license. No warrants have yet been sworn out by Inspector Clark against boarding house keepers, as they all pay the license when notified. A number of them did not know, apparently, that anyone keeping two or more boarders is required to pay the license. Inspector Clark is making a fine record, and many hundred dollars have rolled into the treasury since he began work in the license department.

SOME POINTS ON THE WEATHER SIGNS

Government Officer Prepares Some Interesting History.

Scripture Quoted as Weather Signs—Cats are Good Prognosticators.

HOW TO PREDICT RAIN

For the first time the government has issued a weather bulletin that is interesting, and upon the most tiresome of subjects, the weather. It is issued by the department of agriculture and its author is Edward B. Garriott, professor of meteorology. It is made interesting by quotations from the Bible, Pliny, Indian legend and folklore.

The bulletin says the weather of the world is governed by different conditions, but in this country a steady south-to-east wind will bring rain in 36 hours.

To tell whether it is a rain cloud the professor quotes from Luke xii, 54: "When ye see a cloud rise out of the west, straightway say ye: There come that shower, and so it is." Birds fly high when the barometer is high and low when the barometer is low, hence the frequently misquoted prediction: "Everything is lovely and the goose hangs high." Before rain tobacco becomes moist, salt increases in weight, corrdage tightens, flies sting, doors and windows become hard to shut, red hair curls, lamp wicks crackle, candles burn dim and soot falls down.

Gulls are weather prophets. When a cast washes herself good weather can be expected, and bad when she licks her coat against the grain or washes herself over the ears or sits with her tail to the fire. "If the cock goes crowing to bed he'll certainly rise with a watery head," is another quotation. When fish bite readily and swim near the surface, rain may be expected with certainty. The bee is never caught in a shower, and the professor quotes:

"When bees to distance wing their flight
Days are warm and skies are bright;
But when their flight ends near at home
Stormy weather is sure to come."

Plants, says this weather expert, are subject to weather conditions and are safe prophets. The odor of flowers is strongest before a shower, cottonwood and aspen trees turn up their leaves before rain and those of the sugar maple turn down. A Zuni proverb is: "When the sun sets unhappily then will the morning be angry with wind, storm and sand." If the sun before setting appears diffuse and of a brilliant white it foretells a storm, but if it sets in a sky slightly purple, the atmosphere near the zenith being a bright blue, we may rely on fair weather. This is real weather wisdom.

NEARING AN END

STANDPIPE OF THE FILTRATION PLANT IS COMPLETE.

The new standpipe for the Paducah Water company has been completed at its plant on First street, and the remainder of the work on the filter will be pushed as rapidly as possible. The plant was to have been finished by May 15, but work was delayed by the accident to the sand dredger, and it will be July 1 before the filtration plant is complete.

The new standpipe had been under course of construction since January 10, and was built under the supervision of Mr. James Starr, of Louisville.

The new reservoir is 40 feet high, 70 feet in diameter, and holds 1,200,000 gallons of water, which is pumped direct into it and then runs through the filter, being then pumped into the tall standpipe. Over $60,000 has already been spent on the filter and the total cost will be between $75,000 and $100,000 when it is finished.

MANY ARE COMING TO THE BIG SHOW

Preparations About Complete for the Carnival.

Mr. Joe Rogers Will Be Grand Marshal of the Big Parade—Children's Day.

THE ARCH IS COMPLETE

It is only a few days now until the carnival, and prospects are for the usual number of visitors and strangers during the week. Paducah will doubtless have one of the largest crowds in her history, and the carnival will be found to be one of the greatest ever given in the state.

The city council will hold no meeting next Monday evening on account of the opening of the carnival, all the city officials desiring to be in the big parade.

Mr. Joe Blinn will this year have charge of the country store.

Mr. Gus Rogers has been appointed grand marshal in place of Mr. H. C. Rhodes, who is out of the city.

Saturday at 2 p. m. tickets will be distributed free to all school children at the court house, and the tickets will admit them Tuesday afternoon. The tickets will admit them to the grounds only, but they will be given a half rate for all attractions.

The matron and children of the Home of the Friendless will be admitted to everything free Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. Roger Flint, general manager of construction of the Mundy company, is here and the grounds are already in excellent shape for everything when the carnival company arrives at 11 a. m. Sunday. The location and grounds are ideal, and it promises to be one of the best located carnivals Paducah ever had.

Mr. Blinn, who is soliciting for the country store, is meeting liberal responses from all the merchants. There are to be three big prizes for the closing night, a $75 brass bed, a fine trunk and a suit of clothes. In this drawing every number will have a chance, as they are to be placed on a revolving wheel and the number hit by a bullet fired by some disinterested person will win the prizes in succession.

A committee composed of Messrs. Weille and Davis has been appointed to call upon officers of the school board and have them dismiss school Tuesday afternoon in order that the children may attend the carnival.

The new gold front for the animal show will be used in Paducah for the first time. It was intended to use it in Nashville, but it did not arrive in time.

Mr. Charles Weille intends to ride with Mr. Mundy and the trained lion "Dewey" in his automobile at the head of the procession Monday night.

The arch will be complete and in place Saturday night, and is the finest ever secured by the Carnival Company.

Today or tomorrow three "rubes" will arrive to thoroughly advertise the carnival in the city. 20,000 heralds have been distributed up and down all the roads and the Ohio river, and the company has in addition spent more money than ever before for advertising.

WED THIS EVENING.

Mrs. Neil Robins and Mr. Onthbert Word will be married this evening at 8 o'clock at the residence of Mrs. Valeria Sandys, 926 Trimble street. Rev. W. H. Robinson, of the Second Baptist church will perform the ceremony.

The groom is connected with an insurance company of this city and the bride is an attractive young lady. The couple will reside at Mrs. Sandys'.

WENT TO HENDERSON.

Manager James E. English, of the Kentucky theater, left last night for Henderson to look after work on his new theater there, and expects to return in a day or two. He has not yet been able to go to Shreveport, La., and push negotiations for erecting the proposed new theater there.

KENTUCKIANS FOR THE CHINESE ARMY

A Number to Hold Prominent Positions it is Reported.

Chinese Empire Had Men at Work Reeniting For Sometime Past.

3,500 AMERICANS SECURED

A number of gallant Kentuckians are to serve in the Chinese army, if reports from Louisville are true. It is said that China has for sometime been secretly selecting officers for places in the Chinese Reform army, and the best who have seen service in the United States army and state militia are desired. They will serve three years and get the same pay as officers in the United States army.

Says the Louisville Times:

Those who have been selected for good positions in the Imperial army of China are as follows:

Capt. Clarence E. Grinstead a Captain of the Legion, will be a Colonel;

Capt. George D. Lee will be made a Major; Capt. J. B. Clements, of C Company, artillery, will be made a Captain; Capt. Wallace Morris, of Company F, will be a Captain; Clarence B. Jeffries, Second Lieutenant of artillery; Charles C. McMahon, First Lieutenant of the Quartermaster's Department; Wooley M. Cave, Second Lieutenant of Infantry; R. W. Richardson, Second Lieutenant of Infantry; James H. Conway, Captain of Infantry; Edmund T. Merriweather, Second Lieutenant of light Infantry; H. M. Lawson, Captain of artillery; Thomas W. Beard and David M. Baird will both be made Second Lieutenants.

The Dowager Empress of China came to the conclusion during the Boxer troubles that her army was not up to the standard of the other nations, and decided that the United States had the most efficient troops. A general reform of the Chinese army was decided upon, and Prince Lu Lum was sent to America, not only to represent his Government at the Louisiana Purchase Exposition, but it is said to enlist enough officers to instruct the entire Chinese army. In all, 7,000 American officers will be required.

Headquarters of the Chinese Reform Army were established in Yankton, S. D., several months ago, and Edmund F. English, Captain in the United States army, was given a commission as Brigadier General in the Chinese army and was placed in charge of the recruiting. A secret agency for securing enlistments, it is understood, was established in almost every state, and 3,500 have been secured throughout the country.

TODAY'S SCHEDULE.
Clarksville at Paducah.
Hopkinsville at Cairo.
Vincennes at Henderson.

The Paducah K. I. T. league baseball team defeated the Clarksville league team in the initial pennant game of the season at Wallace park grounds yesterday afternoon by a score of 5 to 4, the game lasting two hours and forty minutes, through sixteen innings. Paducah had the game won several times but the Clarksville boys seemed to have their horse shoe with them and Frakes, their pitcher, pulled himself out of several bad holes. The crowd was not large.

Feature playing was done by Payne, the deaf muto, short stop for Clarksville and by Long, Freeman and Land for Paducah. Freeman's pitching was faultless, he striking out 22 men and allowing but 13 hits in the 16 innings. Frakes allowed 18 hits and walked two men. He was given better support than Freeman and lost his own game in the last of the sixteenth inning when Paducah had two men on the bases and a weak popup to the infield was knocked. Frakes muffed the fly and the runners came in, winning the game.

The game started at 3:30 o'clock, Setley, of Henderson, umpiring. He announced the batteries and later announced that the game had been protested as Paducah was playing Long, who is in dispute by Henderson. President Thompson wrote Setley a letter instructing to declare the game forfeited, if Long was played and the manager of the Clarksville team immediately filed a protest when this was known. Long played the game through and did good work.

In the first inning goose eggs resulted for both teams but Clarksville in the second and third innings scored a run making them two runs to the good. Paducah failed to tally until the sixth inning when one run was made. In the seventh inning Clarksville made another score giving her two runs over Paducah but when the locals came to bat, they knocked out two more runs and tied the score. It remained there 100 until the sixteenth inning when Clarksville made another score. Paducah in the last half of this inning scored twice.

Setley, the umpire, announced that he intended to umpire and asserted his authority on several occasions. Petit kept "jawing" at him until he put Petit on the bench. Petit, he thought said something, and he ran Petit, Harris and Myatt, the latter being pitchers on the bench, out of the park. They went willingly and seemed to enjoy the novelty.

NOTES.

The following is a copy of the letter sent Umpire Setley by President Thompson concerning Long and which was read before the crowd at Wallace park yesterday:

Henderson, Ky., May 10, 1904.
Mr. William Setley, Umpire K. I. T. League:

You are hereby notified that Mr. Long, of Paducah, is claimed by Henderson, and Henderson has protested against his playing in the K. I. T. league until such contest is settled. You will forfeit all games to the opposing clubs in which Paducah club plays Long.

W. L. THOMPSON,
President K. I. T. League.

Blinders are beginning early. Paducah won yesterday's game but may lose it because a player was allowed to play before the dispute as to who is entitled to him is settled. Henderson claims Long, and Long is here and claimed also by Paducah. Paducah has been playing him under an assumed name, which in itself shows that the management at least had doubts about the propriety of playing him. Henderson has protested yesterday's game, and the action in playing Long under a fictitious name will go a long way towards losing the case for the Indians. Too bad that such a brilliant victory as yesterday's should be marred or lost because of this kind of business.

There is a great deal of complaint because there are no accommodations at the park for ladies. The new grand stand could have been built long ago if there were any desire to build it at once. Few ladies attend the games, and fewer still will probably attend hereafter unless there is a grand stand. No announcement has yet been made regarding ladies day, although other league clubs have. Probably when some one explains what ladies' day is, due announcement will be made.

The local fans who have been annoyed and disgruntled in the past with the unnecessary "chowing the rag" of ball players will have delight the firm stand taken by Umpire Setley. It is to be hoped that all the umpires are just like him, for there is no necessity for wrangling. It delays the game and displeases the spectators. A player who can't hold his tongue ought to be put out of the game, and out of the park if that doesn't quiet him, and Umpire Setley is the boy who will do it.

Local fans claim that Paducah can file a counter protest because the rules read that each team shall have ten men in uniform on the grounds and when three of Clarksville's players were ejected from the grounds for unbecoming conduct, it left but nine men to play the game.

The batteries for today are Brahma and Lund for Paducah, Weakley and Petit for Clarksville. Setley will umpire and announce that he will play the game according to rules as he did yesterday.

Warner has been signed by Hopkinsville to play the field. He was Henderson's crack catcher last season and one of the best in the league.

Harry Johnson, of Columbia, and Gaston, the crack fielder-pitcher with Jackson last season, will join Clarksville Sunday.

A. Anderson will join Clarksville today to play third base.

He was with them last season.

Dr. Phil Stewart returned today from Louisville.

Are spreading o'er the city,

Lifting burdens from aching backs,

Curing the palsies of kidneyills.

Read the proof in a Paducah man's words.

J. W. Hart, of 233 Jefferson street, proprietor of a boarding house near

Central Park, says: "I had attacks of kidney complaint for four or five years and every time I caught cold it settled in the loins and I suffered severely. When the spells were at their worst I could hardly stoop or bend. If I did stoop I was compelled to regain an erect position very slowly. On such occasions trouble with the kidney secretion existed and when last ached I noticed

Doan's Kidney Pills advertisement in DuBois & Co.'s drug store and guaranteed to cure just such symabove. Getting them and using them was decidedly satisfactory."

DAILY THOUGHT.

Good and bad fortune are necessary to a man, in order to make him adroit and capable.—French Proverb.

THE WEATHER.

Fair tonight and Friday.

The Courier-Journal has published a strong defense of Grover Cleveland's bond issues. This may not help Grover, but it proves that "wonders never cease."

A Russian general announces that he will use different methods of warfare than those heretofore used. The czar probably wishes the Japanese would do likewise.

A Fulton paper offers $5 to the person writing the best article on "Why Fulton Is an Ideal Location for Factories." Good fiction ought to be worth more than that.

Some of the Democrats in Kentucky are shouting in ill-concealed alarm, "Peace, peace, let us have peace," and yet they are usually the very ones who have always been looking for trouble—until they find more than they bargained for.

The Tennessee press association has served notice that this year all dead-heads and outsiders will be barred from taking the trip with the association. If all press associations were to do this there would be a perceptible decrease in the attendance.

A Colorado judge testily declares that civil law is always above military law in this country, but the governor of Colorado evidently disagrees with him. At any rate the judge's opinion doesn't seem to hold good in some parts of Colorado just now where martial law is in force.

Judge Allie Young, chairman of the Democratic executive committee, denies that he intends to appoint 250 sergeants-at-arms for the state convention. Perhaps he has found out that it will do no good to try to "do" the Louisville machine. There are enough policemen and firemen alone there to put out Chairman Young and all his bailiffs if the occasion—and the machine—demands it.

Since Saturday over $300 has been sent to the Louisville Herald to be used in assisting Jim Howard to get his case into a court where perjury, politics and prejudice do not have a more powerful effect than facts and justice. secure the conviction of the alleged Goebel conspirators.

Slowly but surely preparations are being made to build the Panama canal. The United States flag floats over the canal zone, and there it will stay. It will be several years until the canal is finished, but when it is it will be a boon to the commercial world as long as there is one. The opposition to the canal has been somewhat harassing, but the demand for it was too great, and the determination to build it too strong, to result in defeat.

Judge Saunders has rendered another good decision in the license cases. He holds that a man who uses a vehicle to further his financial interests, whether it be by hiring it or by saving money by using it in his business, is required to pay a license. The city collects about $5,000 a year on vehicles, and if a contractor can run wagons to assist him in his business without paying the license, so can the butcher, the baker and all the others. If they all did, the city would be $5,000 a year poorer, and $5,000 counts for quite a bit when $4,000 court judgments begin to pile up.

The appointment of Mr. J. F. Wallace to the most important position in the construction of the Panama canal is a deserved recognition of ability, experience and integrity, and one which will doubtless be a constant source of congratulation and gratification to the country. Mr. Wallace's retirement from the great and growing Illinois Central will pave the way for the promotion of another popular and able railroad man, Mr. W. J. Harahan, who has many friends in Paducah as well as in every other city where he is known. Mr. Harahan's rise in the railroad world has been rapid, but he has earned it by his exceptional ability and indefatigable work, and will as soon as the contemplated changes are made find himself in one of the most important positions on one of the greatest railroad systems in the world—that of general manager of the Illinois Central.

"The city of New Orleans has been carefully inquiring into the subject of municipal lighting for a year, the present mayor, Mr. Capdeville, having been elected on a platform favoring municipal ownership. After a most thorough inquiry the city council has abandoned the idea of setting up a plant of its own, and has awarded a contract to the New Orleans Railways company, the present contractors, for a term of ten years. The Boston Transcript published a careful comparison by Mr. Hayes Robbier, of the street railway systems of Glasgow and Boston, with the result that he had the privately owned service in Boston superior to and cheaper than the publicly owned system in Glasgow. This is the verdict which generally results from an inquiry into the much advertised municipal socialism of the European cities."—Hartford Times.

The Courier-Journal adds: Municipal ownership, however, will always be popular among the politicians. The demand for it is a good demagogical card to conjure with, and the practical realization of it would be "ants" for the election winners.

Hayes' Beechwood Emulso-Hypo With Iron Makes Fat, Strength, Blood, Bone and Muscle.

If you are tired, broken down, despondent, worn out, pale, losing flesh, have no energy, do not feel like rising in the morning for the day's work, you need a bottle of this wonderful medicine. Do you want good rich red blood? Do you want the bloom to come back to the cheek? Are you convalescing after having fever, pneumonia or measles? Then you ought to take a bottle of EMULSO-HYPO. It is a medicinal food that reaches every tissue in the body and builds you up. Taken in little wine its as pleasant as cough syrup.

Read what the editor of the Meridian Star of Mississippi, A. G. Davis, writes under date of April 8:

"My mother took the Emulso-Hypo and has been greatly benefited. She is in better health than she has been in years."

J. W. Russell, county court clerk of Hickman county, Tenn., writes:

"My wife has used several bottles of Emulso-Hypo and has been wonderfully improved. I can conscientiously recommend it for all lung trouble."

Rev. G. T. Sullivan, presiding elder of the Memphis district, writes under date of Dec. 1, 1903:

"My daughter, whose system was very much run down, has been taking your Beechwood Emulso-Hypo with Iron, and has improved so much with one bottle I have no doubt by continuance she will be fully restored in her nerve forces. I am delighted with the results and shall continue her on it. Wishing you prosperity, I am, yours truly,

J. V. GREIF, Manager.

Written at Random.

The cool weather of the past few days is known as "snowball winter," and later on we may expect "blackberry winter," which is due in about thirty days. "Snowball winter" did not derive its name from snowballs proper nor from the chilly atmosphere which made thin clothes feel like a St. Louis man's reception this summer of his poor kin. It got its name from the fact that there is usually cool weather when the guelder-rose, or snowball, blooms. They are in bloom now, and if tradition is followed this year, the cold snap will not last long.

Paducah has three William Bakers, but today has four Frank Wagner. All the Bakers live here, but only one of the Wagners resides here. The other three are attending the Red Men's council, and one is from Louisville, one from Petersburg and the other from Owensboro. They learned yesterday afternoon that there was another Frank Wagner in the city, and left en masse for his place of business, where the simple ceremony of saying "Mr. Wagner, allow me to introduce you to Mr. Wagner," took place. As none knew which parson was meant, they all felt sufficiently introduced and spent a pleasant hour together. Another funny coincidence is that each one of them keeps a saloon.

Sir Henry M. Stanley, the noted explorer, was at one time a resident of St. Louis. Just following the civil war he worked there as a newspaper reporter on the old St. Louis Democrat before its consolidation with the Globe. Stanley's St. Louis career was brief. After a few months' connection with the staff of the Democrat, he was sent to join the expedition of Gen. Winfield S. Hancock against the Indians in western Kansas and Nebraska as a correspondent. He was recalled by his chief because his articles were objectionable to Gen. Hancock.

With no pretensions to the fame which afterwards became his, Stanley showed, at that time, the love of adventure, the roving disposition and the trait of fearlessness in his make-up, which enabled him afterward to achieve success as an explorer.

A Louisville judge possesses a cutting repertoire which ought to win him undying fame. Every judge of any experience knows how hard it is to get desirable men to serve on juries. They usually come up and beg to be excused because their business interests demand all their time, according to their view of it. Judge Mahr, of Louisville, however, has made it a rule to excuse no one except for the most urgent reasons. The other day he found confronting him with expectancy and a contrite heart, his milkman.

"If you don't let me off, Judge, it will ruin me," he declared.

"I cannot accommodate you," replied the judge. "There are only 23 jurors present, and as we need another I'll not only have to hold you but get one more."

"This is ruinous for me, Judge; don't you think you can reconsider and let me off?"

The judge replied most positively that he could not.

"All right, then," responded the milkman, laughingly. "If you don't let me off I'll put something in your milk."

"You might put a little milk in it," replied the court.

The Rose Cecilia Shay Opera company seems to have demonstrated the fact that high class opera does not pay when taken on the road. Since the company was in Paducah several months ago it has had a rough time of it. Matters came to a climax Sunday in St. Louis when the company disbanded.

Many members of the chorus are still in St. Louis and they say they will be unable to leave until they are paid a part of the wages which they claim are due them.

The company has had a stormy time since its engagement at Winnipeg, Manitoba, on February 10, some of the members claiming that they have received only a part of their salaries since that time. Several of the singers claim that the company's travels since its departure from that city have been marked by unpaid hotel bills.

A number of the chorus girls have secured engagements with the summer gardens, but a majority have been unable to secure positions, and are said to be in destitute circumstances. According to a story told by James McIntyre, a large majority of the men and women have no money, and he asserts that they cannot hope to receive much from the management of the stranded company.

Thomas F. Shay, father of the prima donna, is in St. Louis in an effort to arrange matters with the troupe, but it is said that dissatisfaction exists with his offers of compromise. The baggage of the company has been attached by the Odeon management to recover on the guarantee of $1,000 for the house for two weeks. It is said that the amount owed the singers varies from a few dollars to $100 each.

Many of the habitues of Police Court seem astonished when they hear Judge Sanders telling from the bench of things he did in his court forty years ago. He does not look like an old man, in the first place, and forty years is a mighty long time to hold court, in the second.

The Judge was telling yesterday how things used to be. "I held court here forty years ago," he said. "The barracks were here and there were soldiers here two or three years after the war. They used to get in trouble and be brought before me, and I fined them just as if they were common, everyday folks, and I never had any trouble. They were put out to work on the streets, uniform and all, and sometimes they would get away and their superior officers upon request, would bring them back to us. This, of course, was in cases of flagrant violations of the law. In some cases, where there were mitigating circumstances, the fines of the soldiers were paid by the officers. But I have seen many a soldier working a fine out on the streets, and the records are right here now, if there is any one who wants to see them.

Judge Sanders then told how in many respects the Judicial department of Paducah had more advantages in those days than now. In those days there was a clerk who issued all the warrants, and all the judge had to do was to come down and hold court in the morning, render judgments, and leave. Now he has to issue warrants and all. There is no clerk, and the salary is just the same today that it was forty years ago.

CHAPTER XII.

WHEN Francis Jeffrey's hand fell from his forehead and he turned to face the assembled people an instinctive compassion arose in every breast at sight of his face, which, if not open in its expression, was at least surcharged with the deepest misery.

I pass over the preliminary examination of this important witness and proceed at once to the point when the coroner, holding out the two or three lines of writing which Mr. Jeffrey had declared to have been left him by his wife, asked:

"Are these words in your wife's handwriting?"

Mr. Jeffrey replied hastily and with a glance at the paper offered him: "They are."

The coroner pressed the slip upon him.

"Look at them carefully," he urged. "The handwriting shows burry and in places is scarcely legible. Are you ready to swear that these words were written by your wife and by no other?"

Mr. Jeffrey, with just a slight contraction of his brow expressive of annoyance, did as he was bid. He scanned, or appeared to scan, the small scrap of paper which he now took into his own hand.

"It is my wife's writing," he impatiently declared; "written, as all can see, under great agitation of mind, but hers without any doubt."

"Will you read aloud these words for our benefit?" asked the coroner.

The lines he was thus called upon to read may bear repetition:

I find that I do not love you as I thought. I cannot live seeing this to be so. Pray God you may forgive me! VERONICA.

As the last word fell with a little tremble from Mr. Jeffrey's lips the coroner repeated:

"You still think these words were addressed to you by your wife; that in short they contain an explanation of her death?"

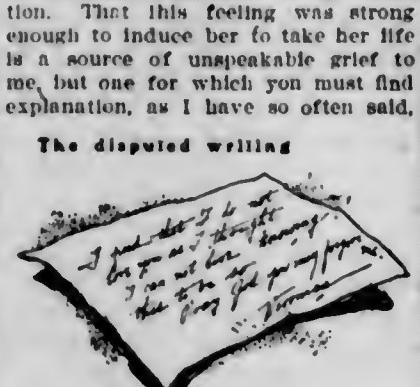

"I do."

There was sharpness in the tone. Mr. Jeffrey was feeling the prick. There was agitation in it, too; an agitation he was trying hard to keep down.

"You have reason," then, persisted the coroner, "for accepting this peculiar explanation of your wife's death, a death which, in the judgment of most people, was of a nature to call for the strongest provocation possible."

"My wife was not herself. My wife was in an overstrained and suffering condition. For one so nervously overwrought many allowances must be made. She may have been conscious of not responding fully to my affection. That this feeling was strong enough to induce her to take her life is a source of unspeakable grief to me, but one for which you must find explanation, as I have so often said.

The disputed writing

In the terrors caused by the dread event at the Moore house, which released old tragedies and emphasized a most unhappy family tradition."

The coroner paused a moment to let these words sink into the ears of the jury, then plunged immediately into what might be called the offensive part of his examination.

"Why, if your wife's death caused you such intense grief, did you appear so relieved at receiving this by no means consoling explanation?"

At an implication so unmistakably suggestive of suspicion Mr. Jeffrey showed fire for the first time.

"Whose word have you for that? A servant's, so newly come into my house that her very features are still strange to me. You must acknowledge that a person of such marked inexperience can hardly be thought to know me or to interpret rightly the feelings of my heart by any passing look she may have surprised upon my face."

This attitude of defiance so suddenly assumed had an effect he little realized. Miss Tuttle stirred for the first time behind her veil, and Uncle David, from looking bored, became suddenly quite attentive. These two but mirrored the feelings of the general crowd, and mine especially.

"We do not depend on her judgment alone," the coroner now remarked. "The change in you was apparent to many others. This we can prove to the jury if they require it."

But, no man lifting a voice from that gravely attentive body, the coroner proceeded to inquire if Mr. Jeffrey felt like volunteering any explanations on this head. Receiving no answer from him either, he dropped the suggestive line of inquiry and took up the consideration of facts. The first question he now put was:

"Where did you find the slip of paper containing these last words from your wife?"

"In a book I picked out of the bookshelf in our room upstairs. When Loretta gave me my wife's message I knew that I should find some word from her in the novel we had just been reading. As we had been interested in but one book since our marriage, there was no possibility of my making any mistake as to which one she referred."

"Will you give us the name of this novel?"

"Compensation."

"And you found this book called 'Compensation' in your room upstairs?"

"Yes."

"On the bookshelf?"

"Yes."

"Where does this bookshelf stand?"

Mr. Jeffrey looked up as much as to say, "Why so many small questions about so simple a matter?" but answered frankly enough:

"At the right of the door leading into the bedroom."

"And at right angles to the door leading into the hall?"

"Yes."

"Very good. Now may I ask you to describe the cover of this book?"

"The cover? I never noticed the cover. Why do you—Excuse me, I

Miss Tuttle and Uncle David listening to the evidence suppose you have your reasons for asking even these puerile and seemingly unnecessary questions. The cover is a queer one, I believe, partly red and partly green, and that is all I know about it."

"Is this the book?"

Mr. Jeffrey glanced at the volume the coroner held up before him.

"I believe so; it looks like it."

The book had a flaming cover, quite unmistakable in its character.

"The title shows it to be the same," remarked the coroner. "Is this the only book with a cover of this kind in the house?"

"The only one, I should say."

The coroner laid down the book.

"Enough of this, then, for the present; only let the jury remember that the cover of this book is peculiar and that it was kept on a shelf at the right of the opening leading into the adjoining bedroom. And now, Mr. Jeffrey, we must ask you to look at these rings, or, rather, at this one. You have seen it before. It is the one you placed on Mrs. Jeffrey's hand when you were married to her a little over a fortnight ago. You recognize it?"

"I do."

"Do you also recognize this small mark of blood on it as having been bere when it was shown to you by the detective on your return from seeing her dead body at the Moore house?"

"I do; yes."

"How do you account for that spot and the slight injury made to her finger? Should you not say that the ring had been dragged from her hand?"

"I should."

"By whom was it dragged? By you?"

"No, sir."

"By herself, then?"

"It would seem so."

"Much passion must have been in that act. Do you think that any ordinary quarrel between husband and wife would account for the display of such fury? Are we not right in supposing a deeper cause for the disturbance between you than the slight one you offer in way of explanation?"

An inaudible answer; then a sudden straightening of Francis Jeffrey's due figure. And that was all.

"Mr. Jeffrey, in the talk you had with your wife on Tuesday morning was Miss Tuttle's name introduced?"

"It was mentioned; yes, sir."

REPORT TO BE READ

Tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock the regular quarterly meeting of the I. C. hospital association board of directors will be held at the hospital on West Broadway.

The members of the board are Superintendent Egan, Rundmaster Thompson, Master Mechanic Turnbull, Conductor Wheden, Engineer McGuire and Supervisor of Bridges and Buildings Hubbard, of the Tennessee division of the road.

The board will probably let the contract for the improvements to the hospital grounds authorized at the last meeting held several months ago. The grounds are to be improved by walks and flower gardens and in addition the bath room department will be improved by tiling floors.

The reports will be audited and it will be found that the hospital is in the very best condition possible. The patients have been more numerous this season past than heretofore and the reports will show that up-to-date, the number of patients will exceed the number admitted up until May 1908, by about one hundred.

It is probable no very important business will come before the board other than mentioned above.

THE TEMPLE CASE GIVEN TO JURY

Was on Trial Less Than Two Days.

East Tennessee Company Wins Suit
—Minor Circuit Court Notes.

POLICE AND OTHER COURTS

A verdict for the defendant was returned this morning on peremptory instructions from the court in the case of J. M. Luttrell against the East Tennessee Telephone company. Luttrell sued the company for $518.40 on some poles. The evidence showed that the company bought the poles from another man and paid him for them. The other man, it seems, bought them from Luttrell, and Luttrell made the mistake of suing the company instead of the man to whom he furnished them. The company had no contract with Luttrell, and all the poles that Luttrell furnished the company were furnished through another man, whom the company paid for them. The court held that Luttrell should have sued the man he furnished the poles to, and not the telephone company, with whom he had no contract.

In the case of Donnally Carney, against El Guthrie, a motion with reasons for a new trial, was filed.

The case of J. O. Nessan against H. A. Rose was continued.

Ida Mat Browning was granted a divorce from her husband Solie G. Browning.

The case of George Johnson against the Paducah Laundry Co., was set for trial for the 3d day. It is a damage suit, Johnson having walked into a vat of boiling water one night, the top having been left off.

The case of Mrs. Nettie Smallman against Henry Temple, for $15,000 damages for the death of her husband, was given to the jury yesterday afternoon. The jury reported again this morning and was sent to its room with indications of disagreement.

POLICE COURT.

The principal cases on the police court docket this morning were against J. R. Cosby, carpenter on the Joe Fowler, and D. W. Barnes, another carpenter who has been working for the packet company. The former is charged with a breach of the peace and Barnes with malicious cutting.

The two men, it is claimed, have not been on good terms, and a quarrel arose yesterday afternoon about 3 o'clock on the wharf over some work and Barnes cut Cosby under the arm, and was knocked down by Cosby, who seized a club. Neither was able to attend court today and the cases were continued until Monday.

Jim Craven and W. Taylor, colored, were fined $20 and costs each for gaming.

A breach of the peace case against Finis Campbell and Henry Barber, colored, was continued.

W. J. Williams was fined $1 and costs for being drunk.

MUCH SOUGHT AFTER

Judge Lightfoot Besieged by
Would-be Game Wardens.

Health Officer Graves Annoyed by Applicants for Sanitary Inspector.

Two men in Paducah are very much besieged by office seekers. They are County Judge B. T. Lightfoot and Health Officer W. T. Graves.

The former is expected to shortly appoint two game wardens, under a recently enacted state law, and the latter is supposed to appoint two city sanitary inspectors. In both cases there are many applicants and the two officers are continually in "hot water", figuratively speaking.

County Judge Lightfoot stated this morning that he had been bothered both personally and officially by applicants telephoning him for positions as game wardens, and was not ready to appoint yet. He can appoint two wardens when he sees fit, many county judges having already appointed wardens for their county, but Judge Lightfoot will investigate the necessity of making such appointments.

If the county needs none to protect the game, then he will appoint, otherwise not.

Health Officer Graves informed a reporter this morning when asked for his appointment, that the reporters were worse than the applicants themselves. He has about one hundred men to pick from and seems to be in no particular hurry to appoint although the city is badly in need of sanitary inspectors.
